Issues

- Related Information is not on one page
- On phone, only one card is displayed. Users have to keep scrolling the card to get to the page intended

Impact

- Increased frustration
- Users have to spend more mental energy piecing together information from different pages
- Higher bounce rates (users tend to leave the site quickly)

Long hamburger Menu

- Increased time to find information
- Long menus are harder to use on smaller screens - especially on mobile devices - as users must scroll repeatedly, leading to potential usability issues

Lack of Call-to-Action

- A lack of a Call-to-Action (CTA) on a webpage means the page fails to provide clear, actionable steps for the user to take after consuming the content.
- “Apply now” button is not available, with only the application link underlined

Before

Graduate Programmes (Postgraduate Studies)

SUSS offers stackable graduate programmes, at the graduate certificate, graduate diploma, Master's and Doctoral levels, in a diverse range of disciplines catering to professionals seeking to enhance their skills and knowledge. Students can cumulatively earn credit units towards higher level graduate programme by progressively completing courses from the lower level programmes.

Courses are delivered in seminar workshop mode combining lectures, case studies, presentations and/or project exercises. The duration for completion is generally 6 months for graduate certificate programmes, 12 months for graduate diplomas, and 24 months for Master's degree programmes by coursework.
